

Conor Lawrence

ZoneCoach® Trainer

Conor is a co-author, former podcast host, and now a ZoneCoach® Trainer. Client success is his only mission! Conor guides people to create their Life Blueprint and uses the S.C.O.R.E.® System as the vehicle to achieve it. As a coach, Conor is extremely disciplined, focused, positive, and energetic. He will hold you accountable and push you to advance in your goal pursuit while simplifying and balancing your life.

Conor helps clients to gain a mental edge in life, sports, and business. He is currently working with division 1 athletes to gain this edge over the competition and achieve their athletic goals. Conor is a graduate of Olivet Nazarene University with a degree in Business Administration. He has worked with ZoneCoach® since May of 2021, assisting the team in sharing S.C.O.R.E.® with the masses.

As a student of the S.C.O.R.E.® System, Conor knows it works for everyone. In his final year as a collegiate golfer, he lowered his handicap by two strokes and became an all-conference player using the S.C.O.R.E.® System combined with his Life Blueprint. He says, “I wish I had known about the S.C.O.R.E.® System earlier. It is the hidden secret to better performances in any Life Arena.”

Conor is newly married to his wife, Hannah, and lives near Chicago. Outside of coaching, you can find him playing golf, reading, cooking, and working towards his MBA.
